Redskin Sketch Book

Manual's 1971 Ivian presents a "sketch" of the school's seventy-sixth year

to keep memories of all happenings for students and teachers. The Redskin Sketch Book covers special events, classes, activities, and sports involving our some 2300

too, and trends of the times show up in pictures and copy covering our school life.

Presenting Colors at an auditorium program is the ROTC Color Guard—Daniel Burke, Ernest Watson, Jeff Gordon, and Larry Burgess, Leading Manualites in the Pledge of Allegiance is Honorary C/Lt. Sue Eckstein.

School Buzzes

Redskin Marching Band returns from the practice field on an autumn afternoon where bandsmen have been perfecting their halftime show for the next football game. Director William D. Kleyla preaches "practice makes perfect" to his musicians.

Drummers Steve Busch, Tony Walton, David Steele, and Dave Hodges do a fast cadence to entertain basketball fans during halftime. Several shows were presented by bandsmen and twirlers at home games.

Wanda Wade discusses a problem during the Student-Affairs-Board-sponsored "Rap Session" in the library an evening in March. Students waiting for the mike are Rowena Bush, Jeannette Bair, and Tony Duke.

Sequin-garbed high steppers, the Color Guard members from the band, present Colors as preliminary ceremonies for basketball games in the gym and grid games on the football field.

Round the Clock

"Exercise in Knowledge" team studies in the library for their next contest. Seated are Phil Wyss, Mr. Robert Healy, sponsor; Cathy Davis; standing, Linda Laetsch, Tom Smith, Margaret Maxwell, Paul Herbig.

Christmas Comes to Manual

Director Tom Williams leads the Choir in Christmas carols on the main stairway. Other musical groups take turns singing to Manualites there the week before Christmas vacation.

Doug Neff hangs mistletoe over the clock in the Publications Office with the help of Joyce Stull to add some Christmas spirit to the daily routine of the staff members and visitors.

Masomas Candy Brunner, Carmen Tremp, and Charlene Walton serve dinner plates and coffee to Alumni attending the annual birthday party. All Masoma members helped set up and serve this banquet. They also assumed 'clean up detail' for the cafeteria after the party ended.

Alums Attend Birthday Party

Mrs. Richard C. Lugar and Mayor Lugar talk with Roines Members Mark Kriese and Blake Housam at the alumni reception in the library before going to the dinner in the cafeteria.

Gridders' Win Makes Homecoming Perfect

Large white mums topped with a red "M" and tied with red and white streamers were a part of most Manualites' Homecoming attire. Freshman Susan Beaupre and Junior JoAnn Devine proudly show theirs to Mrs. Alma Rush, business teacher.

The Manual Redskins pleased the large Home-coming crowd by defeating the highly-touted Broad Ripple Rockets, 22-7. Many alumni returned to see an exciting game and the traditional half-time festivities. On October 16, Wayne Shaw and Cindy Eva became the eighteenth Homecoming King and Queen. The new royalty were chosen by an all-school vote and announced at half-time by Principal Wayne H. Kincaid. The Homecoming King and Queen of 1969, Mike Crafton and Vicki Steele, crowned their successors with the gold and red velvet, bejeweled crowns made by the Art Department several years ago.

The Redskin Marching Band performed during the half-time show under the direction of Mr. William Kleyla and Drum Major Mike Christy. The band formed an "M" in center field and played "Miss America" while Junior Bill Davis sang its parody, "Queen of Manual High." The Girls' Glee Chib accompanied Bill in "Girl of My Dreams."

Lettermen drove the candidates around the track in open convertibles decorated with red and white streamers. Freshmen Papooses carried the crowns, and two freshmen football players rolled out the white carpet for all participants to promenade.

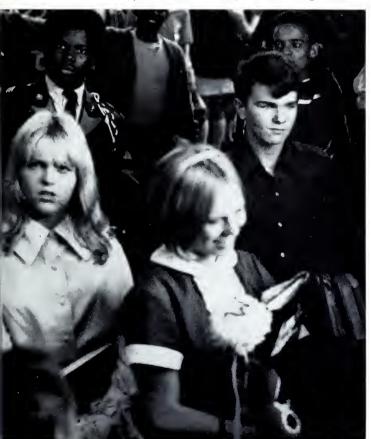

Chauffeured by Senior Rick Poynter, King Manual XVIII and his Queen, Wayne Shaw and Cindy Eva, are driven around the football field so all spectators can view their smiling faces under their regal crowns. Twice around with the crowds cheering is "a big thrill."

Homecoming candidates are lined up on the field awaiting the announcement of the new King and Queen. Hopefuls are Richard Breedlove, Denise Robinson, Wanda Wade, Tom Klinge, Cindy Eva, Wayne Shaw, Jackie Clifford, Tim Updike, Ilze Berzins, and Steve Dietz.

Students, coming from the afternoon pep session before the Homecoming game, show the determination that helped the Redskins down the Ripple Rockets for a perfect evening.

Freshmen Papooses Marinell Watness and Greg Livingston return to their car along the white carpet between rows of Glee Club girls after delivering crowns for the coronation.

AEW Provides Open House Night for Parents

Open House brings parents and students together with teachers to discuss grades, class work, and student participation. Here Mr. John Krueger talks with Mrs. Vera Stubbs and her son Bob, while Alexis Haddix waits in the background.

Senior Charlene Walton, turnabout for Mrs. Marilyn McCloud, even took care of Home Room and did a bit of counseling, as she gave failing students tips on how to raise their grades.

Jean Ruoff, turnabout for Mr. Don Hully, uses a transparency projector to show charts of wind currents in explaining weather trends in Physical Science.

Turnabout Day for 'Teaching' Seniors

American Education Week, an annual national observance, is a week in October set apart for a special educational purpose. The theme of this year's AEW, October 25-31, was "Shape Schools for the 70's." At Manual, the highlights of this week were the traditional activities — an Open House and a student-faculty Turnabout Day.

On Wednesday night of AEW, hundreds of parents filed through the halls — meeting teachers, touring laboratories, and discussing problems, teaching techniques, and grades. Outsiders and recent alumni also came to see the school and visit their former teachers. ROTC boys were at every door to give help and directions to the visitors. Student Affairs Board members were in the halls to pass out teacher-classroom lists and give assistance. The P-TA furnished faculty members with corsages and boutonnieres as identifications.

On Turnabout Day, selected seniors spent the day with an administrator, a teacher, or staff member to see what the "other side" was like. Students acting as counterparts "ran" the school, taught classes, and performed office duties. These students had the honor of eating in the teachers' cafeteria as guests. The day ended with a P-TA sponsored tea for the faculty and "Turnabouts."

Principal for the day, Senior Tom Smith takes the place of Mr. Wayne Kincaid for the announcements. Behind him waits Kathy Gabonay, Vice-principal Franklin Fisher's turnabout.

Senior Pat Layden shows his Craft Arts class how to form clay into the proper design to decorate a large vase. Pat was the turnabout teacher for Mr. Nicholas Logston.

Puppeteers Dale Petrie and Blake Housam save Lili (Joletta Strait) as she starts to climb the ladder to commit suicide.

Successful 'Carnival' Hit

Rosalie, portrayed by Linda Laetsch, is telling Schlegel, the circus owner, Mike Christy, that she is leaving because Marco the Magnificent is in love with another girl. Greta Schlegel, played by Janice Hardy, sits at the bottom of the "Leap for Life" pole licking her habitual lollipop.

Entertains Redskins with Musical Evening

The musical "Carnival" was the Music Department's feature event on the Manual stage November 20 and 21. Members from the band, orchestra, and choir auditioned for the parts in this musical.

The story revolves around Lili (Joletta Strait), a girl who comes to the carnival looking for work. There she meets Puppeteer Paul Barthalet (Dale Petrie), who is bitter toward life because he is lame. Lili also becomes acquainted with Marco the Magnificent (Eric Smith), who enchants her with his magic and vies with Paul for her affections.

The circus owner, Schlegel (Mike Christy), says that Lili can not stay there unless she works, so Paul's assistant, Jacquot (Blake Housam), gives her a job singing with the puppets. Paul treats Lili cooly, however, because he thinks she loves Marco, who has been paying her a lot of attention. This has made Marco's mistress, Rosalie (Linda Laestch), very jealous. Rosalie threatens to run away and marry a doctor (Mark Ellis). Marco would be left without an assistant, but he just says that if she leaves him he will use Lili. This threat doesn't help the situation.

Eventually, through the use of his puppets, Paul tells Lili that he loves her. Rosalie decides not to marry the doctor after all when he turns out to be a veterinarian, and she goes back to Marco and everything turns out on a happy note.

"Carnival" took weeks of practice, but the successful end result was well worth the effort.

Marco the Magnificent (Eric Smith) sings "Magic, Magic" with his mistress Rosalie (Linda Laetsch) while she asks for volunteers from the audience to participate in his magic act.

Dances Add Diversion to School Scene

Wanda Wade and Tom Klinge were crowned Queen Ann and King Ivan, yearbook royalty, at the "Pic Parade" in November.

Dances, which intersperse the year, are one of the weekend attractions at Manual. Students go to visit with their friends as well as to dance.

At the November "Pic Parade," sponsored by the Ivian, students receive packets of their underclass pictures and trade photos with their friends. They also vote for King Ivan and Queen Ann, who this year were Tom Klinge and Wanda Wade.

Two Student Affairs Board after-game dances in the cafeteria during the basketball season kept the activity going beyond the end of the game, giving Redskin fans a fun time until curfew.

Roines, senior boys' honorary, sponsored three "Romps," one fall semester and two in the spring. All three had "live" bands. Pulsating psychedelic lights and blacklights on posters added atmosphere.

Patty Stroud was crowned Queen of the Military Ball, attended by all ROTC cadets and their dates. Col. Don Clark, head of all ROTC units in the Indianapolis schools, was a guest of honor.

The Ivian made its debut at the "John Henry Hop" the evening of Senior Day. Friends signed each other's yearbooks, danced to current records, and had a general good time reliving the year.

The Junior Prom in May and Senior Prom June 11 gave upperclassmen and "new alums" evenings in formal dress to highlight their year.

Wendell Stewart and Larry Walker, members of the Radio Club, are the disc jockeys for the "Pic Parade," an Ivian sponsored dance. Radio Club members are disc jockeys for many school dances in order to make money to buy more records for the club

Sgt. Roy Lawrence dances with Ethel Tines, an ROTC sponsor. Throughout the evening he danced with each sponsor.

Military Ball Queen Patty Stroud and her date Randy Reid dance her "special dance" after she was crowned Queen.

Parents' Fund Projects Increase Redskins' Fun

The P-TA and Dads Club are Manual's big fundraisers. They help both the school in general and its students in many ways. For example, they help send Redskins to camps, institutes, and workshops, and help buy equipment and uniforms.

Besides being helpful, the P-TA's and Dads Club's projects provide fun. The P-TA is well-known for its football concession stands with the hot dogs, hot chocolate, and other refreshments.

The Dads Club is famous for its snacks at basketball games. Cokes were sold by the dozens to frenzied fans in the crowded gym. The Dads Club also sponsored a White Elephant Sale. This auction had many interesting items adding to the fun.

One of the most entertaining and profit-making evenings of each year is the annual Pow Wow. The P-TA sponsors this festival in the gym — preceded by a supper and followed by a dance in the cafeteria. Students participate because many clubs sponsor booths and games and share in the profits. It's a successful venture for all concerned.

Pow Wow preparations are being made by Pat Wire and Dave McCormick of the Future Printers Club. They are checking over the "Raceway" game their club made to use in its money-making booth. Several clubs made games like this one to earn money at the Pow Wow.

Speakers for Opportunity Day had coffee in the library before the program. Sgt. Jack Tomson and Col. Don Clark, Military Service; Mrs. Doris Baker, School of Practical Nursing; and Mr. Tom Mallison, E. I. DuPont, are being served by Sophomore Linda Weimer.

Manualites Look at Future Opportunities

Opportunity Day, March 17, gave Manualites a chance to hear qualified persons speak about different areas of education and occupation.

College-bound seniors attended a panel on "Problems on Adjustment to College," and juniors, planning to attend college, heard a panel discussion on "Preparation for College Admission."

In addition to the college panels, 52 other sessions were available as choices for students. They included all types of professions such as medicine, law, engineering, teaching, and architecture, and numerous vocational careers. Well-qualified speakers from throughout the community shared their backgrounds and experiences with students to help them in their planning for the future.

Senior volunteers welcomed the representatives and assisted them in the halls and classrooms.

Mrs. Jayne Staley, Indianapolis News, talks with Nancy Hendricks, Kathy Gabonay, Charlene Walton, and Loretta Tillman.

Several boys heard the speakers on Health Careers: Mr. Monte Chaille, Educational Coordinator for X-ray at I. U. Medical Center, and Miss Sherri Morris, an instructor. Boys shown are Herbie Browning, Rod Bruce, Don Griffin, and Garry Smith.

Myths, Legends Background Redskin Revue

Seniors Karen Kutzner and Margaret Combs wrote the winning act, "Alotofbull," the story of a monster, half man and half bull, that demanded a sacrifice of 14 humans annually.

The 1971 Redskin Revue played to a full house on Friday and Saturday nights, March 26 and 27. This was Manual's forty-second all-school production, made up of four acts, student-written and directed.

The Redskin Revue Committee, under Co-chairmen Jean Ruoff and Dale Petrie, initiated the new idea of requiring all acts to follow a set theme. It was "The World of Mythology and Legends," and the four accepted acts had settings in early Greece and Rome and in Norway and England.

Mr. Fred Bennett coordinated the show, and two faculty members sponsored and assisted each act.

Rehearsals were in full swing for four weeks. Speaking, singing, and dancing groups could be found throughout the building afternoons; and during evenings the last two weeks, practice time on the auditorium stage was allotted each act.

Publications photographers took numerous pictures for the program; the cover was designed by Leonard Taylor. Mike Fox designed the poster.

Selected members of the Concert Band made up the Pit Band that played accompaniment for all groups. Mr. William D. Kleyla directed. Stage crew members built scenery to act writers' specifications and provided appropriate lighting.

Ticket sellers are always divided into teams and spirited competition results. Winners this year were Joletta Strait and Charles Wolfe.

The cast of "Alotofbull" sings its finale number, a parody to "Good Morning, Starshine," after being freed from the tyranny of the bull. "Alotofbull" was chosen "Best Act of 1971," and Mike Christy, as Dexter Newton, was "Best Male Performer."

"For What It's Worth," by Jeannette Bair, Tony Duke, and Leslie Spencer, a satire on the draft, won three awards, Steve Ritter won "Best Comic Portrayal," Jeff Smith won "Best Male Vocalist," and Susie Capps and Melinda Merrill received "Best Choreographers."

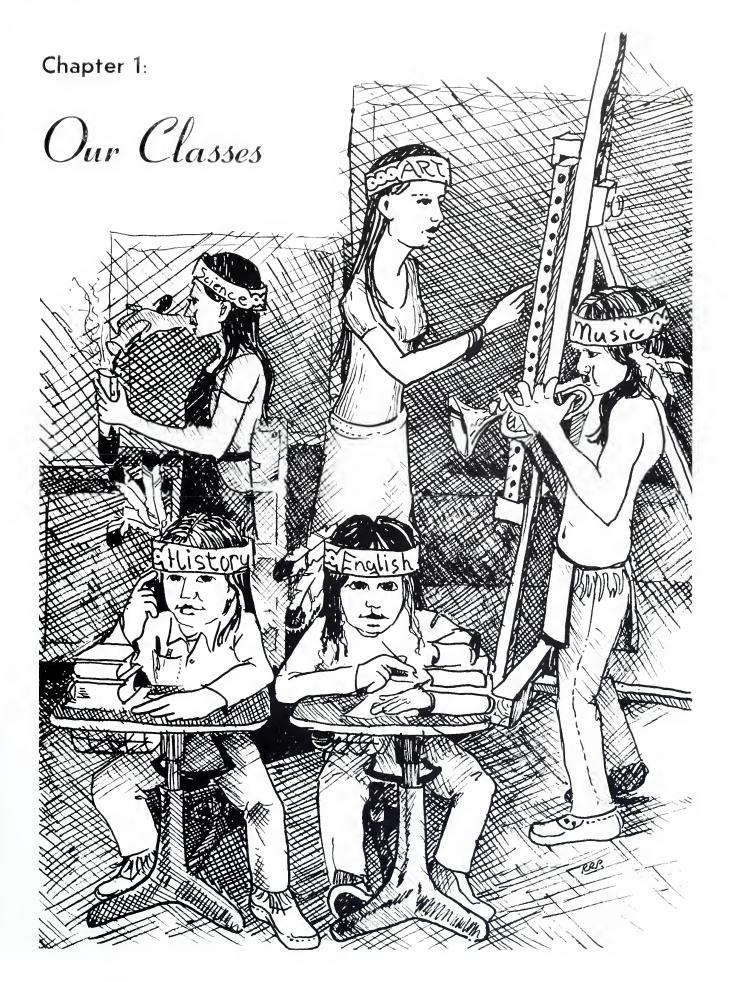

"Forest Fantasies," written by Seniors Wayne Shaw and Peggy McRoy, was a take-off on the legend of Robin Hood. Peggy earned the "Vignette Award" for her part of the jester. Joletta Strait, as Lady Larian, got "Best Female Vocalist," and the "Forest Treats" received the award for the "Best Chorus Line." Here the cast sings "A Wonderful Day Like Today" in their finale.

"Pamela's Crate," written by Darryl Thompson and Rod Bruce, was set in Valhalla and took place under a huge tree. Pamela, the leading lady, was played by Terry Glass who won "Best Female Performer." Here the cast sings "There'll Be Some Changes Made," their finale.

Courses in English Involve Most Redskins

Freshman Stan Mathis listens to a play on a cassette tape player in the library. During study halls, students may check out the various tapes that the library has to offer.

The English Department is the largest department at Manual having the most teachers and students because everyone must take three years of English and many take four and even more.

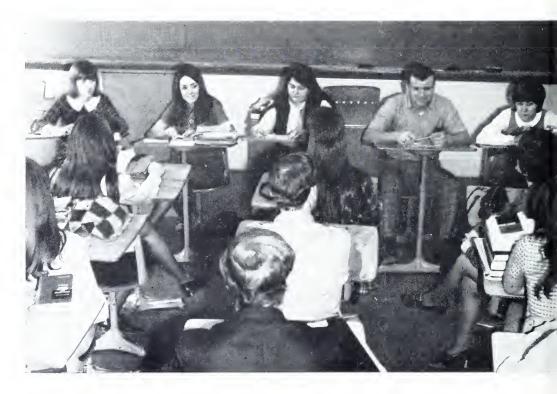

While studying logic and reasoning this year, English classes at several levels had debates using controversial topics which interested the students, such as sex education and movie ratings.

Along with the many English classes in which grammar, writing, and literature are taught, there are speech and etymology classes which teach public speaking and word uses and derivatives.

The English Department also includes two exclusive classes — Histlish and Humanities. Histlish — a combination of United States History and English — is a class for selected juniors taught by Mrs. Marilyn Dever. Humanities, a mostly senior class taught by Mr. Fred Bennett, covers all aspects of civilizations in different ages. Students study the literature, drama, music, and culture of peoples from ancient Greece to modern times.

In November, the Humanities class travelled to Chicago and visited the Art Museum, the Museum of Science and Industry, and the Bahai Temple. They also toured Oldtown and Chinatown. In January, the class went to the Christian Theological Seminary to see an on-stage production of the musical "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off!"

Seniors Beverly Pillow, Wanda Wade, Gloria Vandagrifft, Jeff Gordon, and Debbie Patton debate about the movie rating system in Mr. Dennis Jackson's English 7g class. The class's debates were part of their study of logic and reasoning.

These sophomores are hard at work in the library looking up source materials for research papers. At several levels of English such papers of varying lengths are required.

Peggy Cope, Sandy Gindling, Patty Estes, and Carol Kasper, juniors, formed a panel to discuss the short story, "The Minister's Black Veil," in Mr. Philip Ross's English class.

Freshmen Orientation students make good use of the reading lab equipment. "Pacers" help a person to speed up his reading rate. Each orientation class spends nine weeks of the semester in the lab.

Mr. Carsey Gentry, with Advanced Spanish students — Loretta Tillman, Carol Fletcher, and Leslie Spencer — visited the Children's Museum to view an exhibit of Mexican art.

Language Study Leads To Interesting Activities

The Language Department at Manual offers students a choice of three foreign languages — French, Latin, and Spanish. Spanish classes, taught by Mr. Carsey Gentry, department head, and Miss Ann Manning, attract the most students.

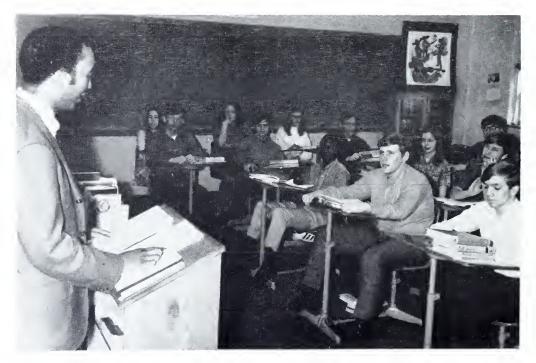

Spanish students may study the language for four years, even if they took it in grade school. There is a special class for freshmen who studied Spanish in grade school and an advanced class for seniors who are actually in their fifth year.

Advanced Spanish class started a Spanish newspaper this year which was issued every month and exchanged with other schools. This class also visited the Children's Museum to see a Mexican Art exhibit that coordinated with their studies.

French and Latin are also offered for four years to language majors. The French classes, taught by Mr. David Phillips, had a Christmas Party in the cafeteria the last day of school before Christmas vacation. A major project of the advanced French class was reading Onze Contes, a collection of eleven short stories written by French authors.

Mrs. Audrey Cronkhite teaches the Latin. Advanced classes translate the writings of such Roman philosophers as Cicero, Virgil, and Pliny.

Mr. David Phillips, French teacher, is leading his second year French class in a vocabulary drill in preparation for a test. The new arrangement of desks is an attempt by the language department to encourage participation and discussion in the different languages.

Freshmen Warren Murphy and Bob Barker compare the catapults they made for Mr. John Krueger's World History class. Special projects like these, including the maps and drawings hung against the chalkboard in the background, were made by all the students in this class.

Social Studies Make Past, Present Relevant

The Social Studies Department covers many areas from regular history to Exploratory Teaching.

The freshmen are offered Citizenship which helps them to understand their rights as Americans. Another course offered to freshmen and sophomores is World History, which traces the history of man from primitive living to the present time.

All juniors are required to take United States History, a course which follows American progress from its beginning to the present and applies this development to today's problems.

Seniors must take American Government and Economics, each a one-semester course. They teach about government and its economic institutions.

Psychology, for upperclassmen, and International Relations for seniors, are elective courses. Designed to help the student understand himself and other people and nations, they are popular courses.

Exploratory Teaching, another elective for seniors, gives students a look at the teaching profession from "behind the desk." Included in the course is assisting in actual classrooms of the subject or grade level that interests the student, either at Manual or in nearby grade schools.

Mr. Fred Belser is showing Loretta Tillman, Ron Land, John Williams, and Tim Updike how to use the voting machine. In November, Government classes voted on this machine.

Problems Create Math and Science Interest

Miss Margaret Goebel and Mr. Ben Parke team-teach the Basic Math class. Here they give Anna Rusie and Dana Hawkins additional help with their homework assignments.

Math and Science are permanently interwoven, as mathematical and scientific principles apply in both areas and are necessary to each other.

Math courses begin with General Math or Algebra the freshman year, and continue through Geometry, advanced Algebra, Analytical Geometry, Trigonometry, and Calculus.

Bíology is required of all students their sophomore year. This class starts with the study of simple organisms and invertebrates and progresses through vertebrates. Students dissect earthworms, fish, frogs, and fetal pigs to get a first-hand look at what they're learning. Sex education is included during the study of man.

Various courses in math provide a good foundation for Chemistry and Physics courses. Chemistry students, laden with slide rules, goggles, and test tubes, study atoms, molecules, and the composition and uses of the various elements.

Science majors go on into Physics, whether the traditional course or Harvard Project, which follows the progress of scientific thought.

Sophomores Steve McCurry and Herb Clark dissect a frog in their Biology class, aided by a model and photos of how the organs should appear. Dissecting gives students a chance to see "how things are arranged," and to trace the circulatory and respiratory systems and study their functions.

Biology students learn to graph results of scientific experiments. Here Debbie Church is playing a game of "reverse coordination" via a mirror. She will graph the results.

Physics students prove their theories with experiments. Here Ron Miller and Jeff Meade, under the guidance of Mr. Steve Sharpee, calculate the acceleration of gravity.

Practice Makes Perfect For Girls in 'Home Ec'

Hundreds of girls prepare for homemaking by taking courses in Home Economics. Whether planning to become housewives or college students, girls find Home Ec beneficial as well as fun.

Freshmen girls who take Social Practice, a course featuring proper etiquette and good grooming, find it helpful for their first year of high school. Clothing classes, also a big help to many girls, not only prove economically beneficial after high school, but they also help the girls add variety to their present wardrobes which are so important to them. Clothing classes may be taken at every level, plus a special senior class.

Other girls find Foods classes helpful because they learn how to fix well-balanced meals and keep a steady diet, which is always a problem for teenagers. They also learn how to serve correctly, and they get experience by entertaining teachers with "partified" meals in their dining room.

Senior girls are required to take Home Nursing, which teaches a wide variety of nursing cares. They learn first aid, care of bed patients in the home, and facts about mental illness, other diseases, and pregnancy. Speakers talked on subjects such as drugs, health careers, and quackery.

Family Living and Home Management balance out the Home Economics curriculum. Students delve into decorating and study money management.

Mrs. Jean Bacus's Clothing I Class is taking a two-part semester final exam. The girls in the background are taking the written exam, while those in front are using the sewing machines for the second part.

Many Business Students Type for Careers

The Business Department, headed by Mrs. Charlotte Camfield, prepares Manualites for a future in the business world through its many courses.

General Business is mainly a freshman course that gives a background in business processes, while Business Law teaches the legal aspects.

Students in Machine Calculation and Data Processing gain practical knowledge through the use of computers, punch cards, and calculaters.

Filing and Secretarial Practice offer girls training in office procedures, and Business Arithmetic and Bookkeeping teach accounting and math skills, useful in homemaking as well as business.

Salesmanship, a two-semester course for juniors and seniors, teaches about merchandising, advertising, and retail selling for many job fields.

The most popular courses in the Business Department are Typing 1-4. In Typing 1, Redskins learn the basic keyboard, while in Typing 2-4 pupils work to increase speed and skill. Two years of Shorthand are also offered. Cousumer Education and Economic Geography round out the business courses. They present the relations of man to the economic and physical aspects of his environment.

Senior Beatrice Morris pauses while she studies a problem that she is trying to work in her Machine Cal Class. S'udents in this class develop skills in operating calculators.

Junior Joletta Strait runs off extra copies of tests on the mimeograph machine in a business classroom. Joletta performs many such duties as student assistant to Mrs. Alma Rush.

Mrs. Phyllis Sullivan, business teacher, supervises the work of Cassandra Smith, Edna Reid, and Beverly Sherrod as they tabuate in their Machine Calculations Class.

Both Fine Arts Departments Show Their Excellence

Mr. Robert Crawford helps Tim Yates in his Advanced Art Class while Terry Bonner and Wendell Ware also look on for assistance. They are matting pictures ready for display.

Richard Patterson works on an oil painting for the portfolio he submitted for a scholarship to Herron School of Art. He won five gold keys in this year's scholastic art competition.

Laura Hall, William Mahone, and Lillian Hall are working with clay in Craft Arts Class. Pupils pursue whatever type of craftwork appeals to them and make many useful and attractive items that can be used for gifts or home decorations.

By Collecting Awards

Known for their many awards, Manual's Art and Music Departments have become extremely popular. Talented students spend many hours perfecting artwork and practicing and polishing songs.

Artistic abilities can be developed in several areas in the Art Department. These include freehand drawing in Art 1-8, skilled crafts and jewelry making in Craft Arts, preparing for the future in Commercial Art, and gaining an understanding of and feeling for art in Art Appreciation.

Thirteen of Manual's entries in the Scholastic Art Competition were Gold Key winners and were displayed in New York. For the second year, Richard Patterson won a "Hallmark" citation.

Manual's Music Department opens a variety of areas to those musically inclined. A student can play in the Band or Orchestra, sing in the Choir, Glee Club, or chorus classes, or learn to sight read, compose, and conduct in Music Theory.

Thirty-eight students from the Music Department participated in the Indiana Music Educator Association All-State Solo-Ensemble Contest at Butler University. Seventeen received First Division ratings and twenty, Second Division ratings.

The department again hosted its annual Choir-Orchestra and Band-Glee Club concerts. Many parents and Manualites enjoyed these evenings of entertainment. Also popular was the yearly "May Festival." It involved everyone in the department and was staged in the gym to accommodate the crowd.

an Orchestra B class, Mr. Thomas O. Dick gives personal help to Freshmen Rita Hollenbaugh and Victoria Webster, who find much enjoyment in practicing their instruments.

Six Shop Areas Ready Students for Vocations

In Auto Shop, Glen Dinkins and Tony Oberting re-bore holes in a car's engine block to size them for oversize pistons.

Practical working experience in Manual's six shop areas provides students with a pliable knowledge for future occupations. Boys interested in future fields of engineering, architecture, and construction are attracted to Industrial Arts' shop and drawing classes and gain exceptional background from them.

Boys learn car repair working in the Auto Shop's "Service Station." Almost all types of body and engine repair are taught. By the end of the year, students are expected to be able to take an engine apart and then reassemble it for a final grade.

Students in Wood Shop are taught home repairs, functions of machines and tools, and scale construction. Building a simple one-level two-room house in miniature was a required project.

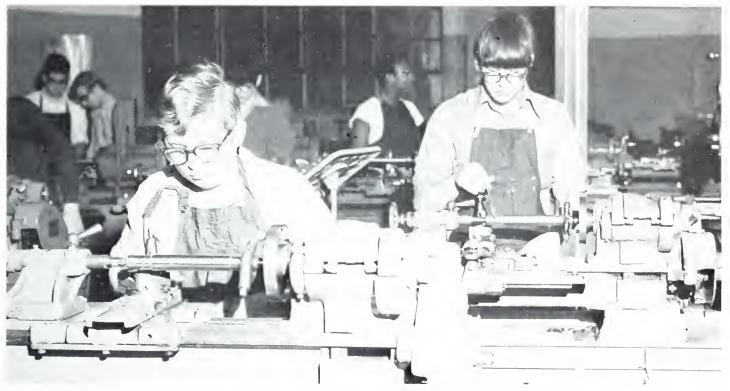

In Print Shop many of the office forms, tickets, posters, senior armbands, and pupil passes are made by students working in Advanced Printing.

Mechanical Drawing, Machine Drawing, and Architectural Drawing constitute the classes offered to prepare students for possible vocational work as Architects, Draftsmen, or Blue Print technicians. Machine Drawing brings this very technical aspect of drafting into practice.

Advanced shop courses for those majoring in Industrial Arts include Machine Shop and Electricity Shop along with an Introduction to Engineering.

Mike Chumley and Larry Walker are testing an audio amplifier that they built in their Advanced Electricity Shop class. The test is being done by feeding an audio signal into the amplifier and measuring the amount of voltage on a voltmeter. Electricity Shop is an advanced class for juniors and seniors, interested in the field of electronics.

David Vandagrifft grinds a hammer handle with a metal lathe, while Kevin Horn measures his handle before making machine adjustments. In Machine Shop, precise metal cuttings are measured with outside calipers to the hundredth of an inch.

Buffing an article in Metal Shop, Freshman Star Harrington uses the Electric Buffer to polish the surface of his project.

ROTC Adds Martial Touch to Manual

Manual's ROTC Battalion Commander, C/Maj. John Williams "dresses" troops and color guard in preparation for inspection.

Manual's Military Science Department has made quite a reputation for itself in competition during the last two years, having won the "Best Marching Unit" at the Annual Federal Inspection two times in a row. The unit participated in the Veterans' Day Parade in November under the command of C/Maj. John Williams. This was also the time of year for drill meets and rifle matches. These two teams participated in competition under a handicap, as there were only four returning members for the Drill Team and one returning member of the Rifle Team. To further complicate matters, ROTC grieved the loss of its commandant, Sgt. Emmett Davis, who passed away November 22, 1970. Against these odds, the Rifle Team managed to compile a winning record of 3-2. Active was the Color Guard, presenting colors for school programs.

The cadets were also busy in the classroom. Freshmen learned first aid, military history, the use of weapons, and customs and courtesies of the services. Second year added map reading and combat tactics. The last two years were rounded out with advanced courses in all these areas.

Highlight of the year was the Annual Military Ball. The cadets danced to the music of Steve Belmer's Band under the theme "Forever and a Night." Reigning Queen of the Ball was Honorary C/Maj. Patty Stroud, who had the added distinction of being crowned by Police Chief Winston Churchill.

Ten red-coated girls serve as ROTC sponsors. They are Sue Eckstein, Patricia Stroud, Loretta Tillman, Kathy Nelson, Linda Clark, Ethel Tines, Brenda Buckles, Debbie Westerfield, and Beverly Pillow. Absent for the picture was Virginia Collier.

Debbie Robertson, Barbara Dawson, Debbie Parton, and Gloria Smith demonstrate a skill known as an "angel" in Advanced Gym Class. This stunt was performed in an exhibition that the girls in gym classes put on before the WIFE — Faculty Fogies basketball game.

'Phys Ed' Provides Fun Period for Energetic

"Physical Education," to many Manualites, produces a reaction of definite interest as they enjoy a daily period of real action, fun, and relaxation.

Gym, to many students who go beyond the one required year, provides a class of fun work. Boys develop skills in such sports as basketball, football, and baseball and build muscles with weight-lifting. Girls strive for grace and poise as they dance, tumble, and do apparatus work. Boys and girls both learn to play ping-pong and volleyball.

Persons who especially enjoy physical activity join boys' and girls' intramural squads.

Johnny Williams appears amused as he does push-ups, a common routine, while Leonard Taylor counts for him in Advanced Gym.

Jim Hawkins develops his strength by climbing with the pegs on a peg board as his classmate, Alan Shreve, looks on.

Senior Honoraries Serve Manual 58 Years

Masoma members decorated each Homecoming mum with a red "M" and ribbon streamers. Here Loretta Tillman, Kathy Gabonay, Veronica Whitney, and Charlene Walton work on their project.

Masoma and Roines, honoraries for senior girls and boys, did many services for the school like welcoming and assisting freshmen on opening day.

Sponsored by Mrs. Betty Baker, Masoma helped with Homecoming festivities by preparing the mums worn to the game by fans. The girls extended their tradition of service by waiting tables at the Fall and Spring Athletic Banquets and setting tables and serving at the annual Alumni party.

Masoma officers were President Linda Laetsch, Vice-president Patty Stroud, Recording Secretary Kathy Gabonay, Attendance Secretary Jill Ferris, Treasurer Roberta Okey, Historian Ilze Berzins.

Roines, sponsored by Mr. Dennis Jackson, added to the Christmas spirit by hanging their annual Christmas wreath over the main doors. They also helped at the Alumni party by checking coats.

Their big activities were the Roines Romps – three dances featuring the top "name" bands, "Soul Messengers" and the "Young Turks."

Roines officers were President Tom Smith, Vicepresident John Williams. Treasurer Mike Curtis, Secretary Paul Herbig, and Historian Jeff Adams.

These 58-year-old clubs went Christmas caroling to hospitals and nursing homes. Both had booths at the Pow Wow and used new pledges to man them.

Honor Society Inducts 19 Seniors, 14 Juniors

National Honor Society initiated 19 seniors and 14 juniors on May 16, and the members were honored by a P-TA-sponsored tea in the library.

Manual's chapter of the National Honor Society was installed in 1956 and since then some 750 Redskins have been initiated into its ranks. To be eligible, a senior must have a 6.25 grade average, and a junior must have a 6.75 average. Membership cannot exceed ten percent of the Senior Class and three percent of the Junior Class. Candidates are evaluated by the faculty and must excel in character, leadership, and service.

The names of Honor Society candidates were announced during a "Ribbon ceremony" in the Auditorium March 10. The ribbon colors are symbolic of the National Honor Society requirements — gold representing scholarship; red, service; royal purple, leadership; and white, character. A large replica of the National Honor Society symbol, a keystone with the torch of learning, always hangs at the back of the stage during this ceremony. At the initiation in May, each member lighted a portion of the National Honor Society torch.

Mr. John Krueger is Honor Society sponsor.

Student Affairs Board Promotes 'Rap' Session

The Student Affairs Board "Rap Session" March 4 was a "first" at Manual. The two-hour session began at 7 o'clock in the library, and students who wished to be heard lined up at the microphone. Sponsored by SAB and the Faculty Human Relations Committee, the meeting was planned to give students a chance to voice their opinions and suggestions to the administration and each other.

The discussion was headed by Mr. Fred Jones, assistant Dean of Boys and chairman of the faculty committee. He introduced Senior Dale Petrie, president of SAB, who explained the procedure.

Subjects brought up ranged from "dressing down" on Junior and Senior Days, leaving the cafeteria after eating lunch, opening the Booster to student comment, and providing a Black Counselor to blacktopping the student parking lot.

SAB sponsored its usual after-game dances, supervised elections for various schoolwide votes, and provided representatives for city activities.

Mask & Wig and National Thespians Provide

Cary Stofer pretends he is balancing on a railroad track as Susie Moore watches during rehearsal for "Train Ride," one of the three one-act plays produced during fall semester.

Mask & Wig and National Thespians provided the actors for the two three-act plays presented this year. The first play, Laura, was a murder mystery which kept the audience in suspense for the entire performance. It was produced in the cateteria in the "half round." The second, Arms and the Man, was presented on stage. This was a satire, poking fun at people who are too idealistic.

Organized in 1936, Mask & Wig is a club which gives inexperienced students an opportunity to learn what acting and drama are all about. Three one-act plays were cast from the members of Mask & Wig and three members of Thespians — Cathy Davis, Debbie Hopkins, and Roberta Okey — directed them. Miss Maureen Northcutt, sponsor of the group, was adviser to these student directors.

The National Thespians Society is an organization for advanced dramatists. Thespian members work under the direction of Mr. Fred Bennett. To become a member of this honorary organization, a student must be a junior or senior with a "B" average. A person hoping for acceptance must also have ten honor points, accumulated through one-hundred hours of work. The points are given for various jobs associated with stage productions. This means anything from selling cokes to taking tickets to having the lead in a play. Manual's Thespian Chapter, Number 1492, is now 16 years old, having received its official charter in 1955.

A scene from the three-act play, Laura, is in rehearsal by Jeff Smith, Charlie Wolfe, and Cathy Davis. The play, which was viewed in the three-quarter round, was produced in the cafeteria during the fall semester by Mask & Wig and Thespian members.

Numerous Outlets for Redskin Extroverts

Catherine Petkoff, played by Carol Williams, displays a worried look during the three-act play, Arms and the Man. Mike Christy, who portrayed Major Petkoff, seems amused; and Beth Mullen, playing Raina, gives her mother a what-are-we-going-to-do-now? look. The play was put on in February from tryouts of all dramatic club members.

Sergius, a Bulgarian officer played by Jeff Smith, flirts with the defiant but vulnerable maid, Louka, played by Jean Ruoff, during the production of "Arms and the Man."

"Just goofing off" is Carol Williams as she has some fun during a rehearsal for "Arms and the Man." Carol played the part of Catherine Petkoff, a lady of high social airs.

Club Mans WMHS; Stage Crew Builds Sets

The Radio Club and the Stage Crew are two groups of Manualites who are responsible for some of the "production" part of school life.

Manual's radio station, WMHS, is manned by members of the Radio Club, sponsored by Miss Cynthia Malin. The club does the taping of some of the announcements and programs for the P. A. Members also broadcast a program from their station every morning for a short period before school starts. Early arrivals really enjoy this service.

In order to make money to buy new records, the Radio Club members disc jockey some of the school dances, such as the Ivian-sponsored "Pic Parade" in November and the "John Henry Hop" in June.

Behind every stage production is the group of hard-working Manualites who make up the Stage Crew. These students are responsible for building and painting all of the sets used in the musical, the plays, and Redskin Revue. In addition to this, they operate the stage lights and spots and make all scenery changes. Mr. Carl Wright is sponsor.

Student Stage Manager Brian Osman is responsible for co-ordinating the stage crew and seeing that everything is ready by curtain time.

Radio Club members, Don Tompkins and Howard Kello, man the controls for radio station WMHS, during the daily morning show.

Manual's Stage Crew has a large workroom in back of the stage where there are many tools suited for building stage sets and properties used in plays, musicals, and Redskin Revue. Here, Mike Jones, John Lewis, Jim Crowe, Ernest Taylor, and Gary Deupree work on one of the units used in Redskin Revue.

'Future' Clubs Test Career Possibilities

Members of "future" clubs are interested in investigating careers in which they might hope to find employment. Future Teachers, Future Business Leaders, and Future Printers all study the possibilities in these fields and learn of the necessary requirements for jobs in them.

Manual's Future Teachers Club is sponsored by Miss Margaret Consodine. This group attracted several Redskins who hope for a career in teaching. On "Turnabout Day" they made name tags to identify teachers and their counterparts. They also sponsored a "Recognition Day" for teachers in April.

At the Pow Wow, Future Teachers had a "Kiddie Korner" booth which provided entertainment for little folks and "babysitter" service for parents.

Mrs. Irma Farthing is sponsor of Future Business Leaders. This group investigated job opportunities and the potential of these careers. The club visited several business offices including Indiana Bell.

The Future Printers Club has been busy with several projects during the year. They made an educational film for the printing classes on "How to Run a Hand Platen Press." It was helpful as a teaching supplement. Assisting with the production of office forms, tickets, and programs for school use is another of their responsibilities. They made visits to RCA, the National Printing Plate Co., Creative Packaging, Poster Display Co., The Pratt Printing Co., and National Decorators as field trips to see these firms' printing operations.

"Raceway," a game made by the club members, was the attraction in their Pow Wow booth.

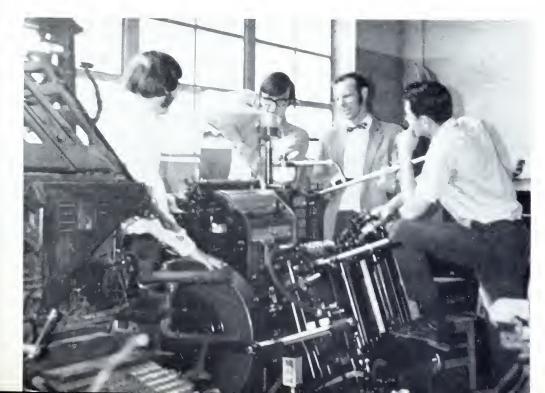

Officers were President Greg Shelton, Vice-president David McCormick, and Secretary Pat Wire. Mr. Marvin Thorpe, printing teacher, is sponsor.

Vice-president Cathy Duggan, Treasurer Peggy Richardson, and President Edna Reid plan meetings for Future Teachers' Club.

President Beverly Sherrod, Secretary Vonita Robets, and Treasurer Mark Bordon, Future Business Leader's officers, plan with Mrs. Irma Farthing, sponsor, for their Pow Wow Booth.

Printing Club members. Pat Wire, David McCormick, and Greg Shelton, along with Mr. Marvin Thorpe, their sponsor, are preparing one of the presses for a printing job. This group supplemented the printing classes by helping to print the the tickets and programs used by the school in stage productions.

Orchestra, Choir Perform in Musical, Concert

Choir Members Pam O' Connor, Eric Smith, and Linda Laetsch practice for the musical put on by the Choir and Orchestra.

The Manual Choir and Orchestra performed many services for Manual and the local community during this year. "Carnival," the annual musical show, was presented as a joint effort, as was a concert.

The Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Thomas O. Dick, presented the P-TA Christmas Program. The group provided music for the Honors Day Program at the close of school. Musical highpoint of the year was the May Festival in which all music groups performed. The Orchestra concluded the year with music for Senior Vespers.

Under the direction of Mr. Thomas Williams, the Choir made its debut by Christmas caroling for the Downtown Promotion. They also sang with the Indianapolis Maennerchoir at Clowes Hall in January. The All-City Choir Festival, May Festival and Vespers were other important activities.

Band, Girls' Glee Club Entertain for Redskins

The Redskin Marching Band received its seventeenth consecutive First Division rating in the Indiana School Music Association Marching Contest. The Band participated in the "500 Festivities" by marching in the "500 Parade" and at the track.

Under the baton of Drum Major Mike Christy, the Band performed at football games, in the Veterans' Day Parade, and also for the launching of the balloons for "Cleaner Air Week." Seniors dedicated their annual show to Director William Kleyla.

The Glee Club, directed by Mrs. Martha Cross, combined with the Band for the Band-Glee Club Concert. The Glee Club participated in the All-City Girls' Glee Club Festival and also sang for the special Thanksgiving program. The May Festival was another activity in which they had a part.

Language Pupils Practice Speaking at Meetings

Latin and Spanish students enjoy after-school activities in their language clubs.

Members of the Spanish Club organized a Christmas fiesta, deluxe with Spanish delicacies, a pinata, and music. Mr. Carsey Gentry, the club's sponsor, spoke on Spanish and Mexican culture. Also speaking to the club at other meetings were Mrs. Grace Spencer, who operates a gift shop featuring Mexican imports, and Mrs. Bonnie Swickard, who has visited Spain several times. The club meets twice a month, conversing in Spanish about future activities and playing Spanish games. A new venture this year was a members-produced four-page newspaper in Spanish. Officers of the group are President Roberta Okey, Vice-president Susie Moore, Secretary Leslie Spencer, Treasurer Lynn Janke.

Latin Club, sponsored by Mrs. Andrey Cronkhite. meets bi-weekly, tenth period. Members viewed slides of Roman architecture of the past and saw pictures of Greek gods they studied. Anne Hathaway is president; Mike Natalie, vice-president; Jean Ruoff, secretary; and Elaine Eckler, treasurer.

Theresa Hoskins, JoAnn Devine, Roberta Okey, and Nancy Hendricks step up to get their food during the Spanish Feast.

Lang Brownlee steadies the pinata dragon while JoAnn Devine takes her turn at attempting to break it and spill the candy.

Members of the Art Club gather outside the Krannert Pavilion of the Indianapolis Museum of Art for a tour of the galleries. The new Art Museum was opened in October and Art Club visited it several times. They also took other field trips throughout the year including one to the Cincinnati Art Museum.

Manual Artists Visit New Museum of Art

Richard Patterson studies the bronze bust of St. John the Baptist by August Rodin on exhibit at the Museum of Art.

Members of Art Club find time each Monday afternoon to work on individual projects in one of the Art rooms with Mrs. Kay Clay, sponsor.

Several trips were made during the year to the new Indianapolis Museum of Art. Members browsed among permanent collections and viewed the exhibit on loan from the Metropolition Art Museum. Later in the year, they also visited an exhibit that commerated the Indianapolis Sesquicentennial. During Spring Vacation, a field trip was made to Nashville, Indiana. Members browsed in Art Salons and Antique Shops and lunched at the Nashville House.

Activities for April included a body-painting booth at the Pow Wow. In May members visited the Art Museum in Cincinnati.

Officers for this year were Tony Duke, president; Rowena Bush, vice-president; Gail Vandemoere, secretary; Richard Patterson, treasurer.

On a visit to the Museum of Art, members of Art Club and instructors view paintings in the Indiana gallery. They are Lynne Foster, Nancy Hendricks, Mr. Wayne Spinks, Tony Duke, Mr. Don Johnson (back to camera), and Richard Patterson. This room houses the permanent exhibit of paintings by native Hoosiers.

'71 Ivian Presents 'Sketch' of School Year

In the "Redskin Sketch Book," the Ivian staff has tried to give an overall view of the school year. Each "chapter" deals with a different phase of school life. Drawings on each of the division pages produce a vignette of several of the details and events of that section. The editors thought there would be no better way to tell the year's story than by "drawing a picture."

Richard Patterson, Art Editor, who is seen in a "self-portrait" on the title page and at the close of the book, did the sketches for all division pages. He also made the design for the front which seemed to call for a Manual-red cover.

The staff spent extra hours after school, on weekends, and during vacations mounting pictures, writing cutlines and copy, and finally proofreading and checking page proofs to meet the deadline. Photographers — Bill Brown, Dennis Myrick, and Tim McCoy — were busy "shooting" and printing.

The Ivian co-editors, Nancy Hendricks and Kathy Gabonay, were assisted by several strong staff members. Among them were Bonnie Richards who was Editor of the Senior Section, Pat Miller who was Ad Editor, and Debbie Hopkins who planned the Activities Section. Publications' sports staff, headed by Randy Duncan, took care of the sports.

Several Ivian staffers check over pictures and copy ready to send to the engraver and typesetter. They are Loretta Tillman, Debbie Hopkins, and Margaret Maxwell, seated; and Pat Miller, Ad Manager; and Lynne Foster, standing.

Ivian Co-editors Kathy Gabonay and Nancy Hendricks discuss with Art Editor Richard Patterson the drawings that he did for the Ivian's division pages. Richard also designed the cover for the yearbook. Richard is a several-time scholastic art gold key winner, He is Manual's "Best" art student.

Sports writers discuss assignments for Manual's publications. The sports staff "covers" for both the Booster and the Ivian. They are Jeff Neff, Mike Kemp, Sports Editor Randy Duncan, and Keith Klingler, seated, and Lang Brownlee and Roger Carroll, standing.

Weekly 'News' Keeps Record, Informs, Boosts

As school opened in September came Quill & Scroll's "International Honor Rating" for 1969-70 Boosters. This inspired the staff to produce another year of award-winning newspspaers. Reporters and editors were quite busy keeping up the pace with events and changes throughout the year.

Staff members attended Indiana High School Press Association's Convention at Franklin College in October and Quill & Scroll Press Day in January.

The Booster was recognized with citations from Tuberculosis Association for the issue that publicized the fight against respiratory diseases.

A new feature in the Booster was the "Redskin Rap Line" which is the students' voice in the paper. Questions from students, letters offering suggestions, and letters merely "griping" were printed, some with attempted answers by editorial editors.

Publications photographers — Tim McCoy, Dennis Myrick, and Bill Brown — check over the cameras and ready them for use. They have several cameras from which to choose including a Speed Graphic, a Pentax, a Polaroid, and a Mamiya.

Home Room Agents come in to pick up Boosters before going to Home Room. This is typical of every Thursday morning in the Publications Office. These agents do several jobs in Home Room to aid publications, such as delivering Boosters and selling underclass picture-packets and yearbook subscriptions.

Kathy Gabonay pins pledge ribbons for Quill & Scroll on Bonnie Richards. Other members and pledges pictured are Jan Butler, Pat Miller (pledge), Vickie Hawkins, Dennis Myrick (pledge), Tim McCoy, Keith Klingler, and Anne Hathaway.

Photographer Bill Brown, Booster Editor Anne Hathaway, and Ivian Senior Editor Bonnie Richards enjoy the Christmas spirit at the Publications Christmas party. Every year a tree is made of newspapers and staffers exchange gag gifts.

President Scarlette Harden, Treasurer Marilyn Sadler, Secretary Mary Merritt, and Vice-president Maxine Clinard, Y-Teen officers, plan another of their many service projects.

Mrs. Phyllis Sullivan, sponsor of Red Cross Club, advises Rose Boyd, Debbie Phelps, and Kathy Bateman as they trace and cut stenciled figures for placemats at a club meeting.

Service Groups Aid With 'Volunteer' Work

Many Manual girls belong to one of three service clubs — Y-Teens, Red Cross, or Tri-Hi-Y.

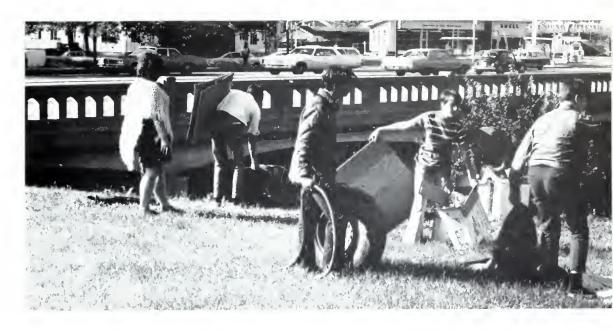

The Y-Teens, sponsored by Mrs. Betty Warner, made money with a coat check at home basketball games. For a dime, Manualites could be cool and comfortable by entrusting their coats to the clubbers for the duration of the game. Y-Teeners collected food for a Thanksgiving basket and gave a group of underprivileged children a Halloween party. During the Christmas season, they caroled at an old folks' home and collected toys to send to Central State Hospital, where a "store" was set up where patients could shop for gifts for their families — "for free," of course.

The Red Cross Club made decorations for dances at Central State Hospital and also made holiday tray decorations to be used in a nursing home.

The Tri-Hi-Y helps Redskins at Sectional time when they sell the red derbies that many fans wear to the Sectional games. These derbies start out plain red, but their owners decorate them with signatures, buttons, and other trimmings. This club also had a booth at the Pow Wow, made placemats for an old folks' home, gave children a Christmas party at "Baxter Y", and made cancer pads.

"Have a hat?" offers Patty Roberts to Judy Collett while other Tri-Hi-Y members look on. Standing are Norma Brown, Kathy Kivett, Kay Newton, Michele Newton, Mrs. Viola Hyndman, sponsor; and Loretta Brown. The club sponsored the derby sale so that Manualites could wear the red hats to the Sectional.

Clean Earth Club members drag debris taken from Pleasant Run up the hill in front of the school. Clubbers waded the creek to clean out pollutants and found surprising items that had been dumped by thoughtless litterers. They also tramped the campus to pick up trash,

Ecology-minded Plan for 'Our' Good Earth

Both the Clean Earth and Naturalists Clubs help students to develop an ecological conscience.

The Clean Earth Club, under the guidance of Mrs. Toni Hammer, took definite steps toward protecting our environment by sponsoring a paper drive to save trees. According to Mrs. Hammer, a ton of old papers would save 13 trees. The club members also cleaned up Manual's campus.

The Naturalists Club, sponsored by Mr. David Otto, made money this year by selling pine cone trees at Christmas and potted geraniums at the Pow Wow. The miniature trees were made by mounting pine cones on conical-shaped styrofoam figures, and then spraying them with silver or gold paint.

The club members also went on field trips to Turkey Run Park, Mammoth Cave, and St. Louis.

Several Naturalist Club members — Tim Hebble, Margaret Maxwell, Kathy Wakefield, Michele Newton, Gary Minnick, Roger Carroll, and Joe Kriech — plan with Mr. David Otto, their sponsor, for a field trip by bus to St. Louis on May 1.

Kiwanis Brings Key Club Chapter to Manual

VIP's at installation of Manual's Key Club are Mr. Robert Hignite, sponsor; Wayne Shaw, president; Ronald Miller, vice-president; Mr. Richard Bauchle, Kiwanis-Key Club chairman; and Dr. Bill Allman, Southside Kiwanis president,

An addition to the list of Manual's honorary service groups was made this year when Key Club had its charter night March 9 at the Schwitzer Memorial Center at Indiana Central College.

The Key Club at Manual is just one of the many high school Key Club Chapters throughout the nation. Manual's chapter is sponsored by the Southside Kiwanis Club of Indianapolis. Boys in any grade level are eligible. To qualify for membership a person must have a "C" average or better, an approved application, and the desire to serve.

Each Key Club Chapter is formed to offer service to its school and the community. One project Manual's chapter pursued was the cleaning and polishing of the collection of trophies in the cases at the east end of the auditorium foyer.

On March 18, a basketball team made up of Key Clubbers took on the Girls' Intermural Basketball team in a benefit game in the gymnasium. The enthusiastic fans paid twenty-five cents to watch the boys down the girls, 43 to 38, in a hard-fought fun game. Profits were divided between the teams.

Officers of Key Club in its initial year were Wayne Shaw, president; Ron Miller, vice-president; Jeff Farley, treasurer; and John Haley, secretary. The faculty sponsor is Mr. Robert Hignite.

Block M's Spur Pride; Chess Club Moves Men

Every Friday, many block "M" sweaters, some red some white, are seen in the halls of Manual. It's "letter sweater day"! Some 80 members of the Lettermen's Club don their sweaters to show their membership in this traditional organization.

Lettermen sponsored their usual basketball foul shooting project for the Pow Wow. This is always a popular money-maker. Mr. Ray Schultz sponsors. Chess Club has met every Thursday afternoon after school with Room 105 providing the battle-ground for Manualite "chessumen." The grueling duels between the members have meant many hours of fun and concentration for all. Officers of the club are President Randy Richards, Vice-president Bob Adams, and Judges Dick Kessler and Glenn Sargent. Faculty sponsor is Mr. Robert Rynard.

Butch Krodel and Tim Kessee are matching their wits in a game of chess at a meeting of the Chess Club, as Members Jim Engelking, Carl Cafouros, Tim Hebble, and Tom Stewart eagerly look on.

Gridders Compile Best Record since 1966

Pushing for more yardage is Gary Cannon as he is tackled by a Ritter opponent. The run was in vain as the Raiders won.

The 1970 Varsity football team finished the season with a creditable 6-4 record. This was the best show since the '66 team ran up a 7-2 record.

Manual's two year winning drought was ended in the first game of the season by defeating Roncalli, 24-14. Two Merrit Gurley touchdowns, an Eric Smith-to-Gary Cannon TD pass, and a fourth quarter safety accounted for Manual's 24 points.

Highly regarded Washington then came to the Manual stadium and were turned away, 32-16. The game saw five Redskins score touchdowns, including Dave Stegemoller's fumble recovery in the end-zone. The victory put Manual in State Top 20.

That rating fell the following week when the Howe Hornets stung the 'Skins, 12-8. Manual's points came by way of a blocked Howe punt in the endzone for a 2-point safety in the second quarter and Eric Smith's 2-yard run in the last period.

A week later, Cathedral's Irish used their home field and a 17-6 first down advantage to hand the 'Skins their second straight defeat, 18-6. The Redskins' only TD came on a 15-yard aerial from Quarterback Eric Smith to the hands of Halfback Gurley during the second period.

The 'Skins lost their third straight encounter on the road to Arlington's Golden Knights, 30-20, the following week. While the Knights were scoring once in every quarter, the 'Skins tallied only in the second half. Manual scored twice in the third period when Gurley and Smith ran for 15-and 20-yard touchdowns, respectively. Gurley scored again in the fourth quarter on a 5-yard run.

Manual returned home and blasted the Tech Titians out of the stadium, 42-0. The game saw four Redskins score touchdowns, and five 'Skins score points. Gurley scored three TD's and a two-point PAT for 20 points; Mark Montgomery had eight points; Gary Cannon and Dale Petrie tallied six points each, and Eddie Owens added two points.

Broad Ripple's Rockets came to Manual for the 'Skins' Homecoming and were handily turned back, 22-7. Gurley once again led the attack by leaping over the goal line from one yard out in the first period. His 34-yard gallop tallied six more points. Other scorers were Eric Smith, TD; Pat Fitzgerald, safety; and Lanny Banks, a two-point conversion.

'Skins Outscore Opponents Some 100 Points

Rival Southport was the next prey of the host Redskins. The Cards were turned back, 40-14. Gurley scored 14 points on a TD and eight PAT's. Touchdowns by Smith. Banks, and Spann, and a two-point by Cannon rounded out the scoring. The 'Skins' last home game was a tremendous 44-0 blitz of the 'Chucks from Wood. The scoring started early when Cannon scored a TD on the third play of the game from 27-yards out. The scoring then went as follows: Second period: Mike Graham — 6-yard TD run, Gurley — 54-yard TD run, and Graham — 2-point conversion: Third period: Mark Montgomery — 30-yard TD on a pass interception, Gurley — 2-point conversion, Spann — 20-yard TD run, Eddie Owens — 2-point conversion; Fourth period: Owens — 34-yard TD run, Montgomery — 2-point conversion.

Although the Redskins were undefeated in home games, they did lose one game at Delavan Smith Field when the Ritter Raiders beat the 'Skins in a 26-8 battle. Manual's only score came on Merritt Gurley's 4-yard run and his 2-point PAT conversion. Those eight points gave Gurley a share of the City scoring title. He collected 102 points in ten games to share with Chatard's Tim O'Brian.

JV's, Freshmen Post Strong Win Seasons

The Junior Varsity, under the coaching guidance of Mr. Dennis Jackson and Mr. Ray Schultz, and the newly entered Freshmen, coached by Mr. Fred Jones and Mr. Gerry Root, posted strong winning seasons with records of 7-3 and 8-2.

The JV's scored victories over Roncalli, 22-6; Washington, 14-12; Tech, 20-0; and Columbus, 22-0. Other wins were posted over Wood, Broad Ripple, and arch rival Southport. The 'Skins' only defeats came from the hands of Howe, Arlington, and always-strong Cathedral. Leading the JV's attack throughout the season were Juniors Crawford Spann, Mike Collins, Bob Mack, Dave Jackson, and Darrell Short. Frequent sophomore players were Eddie Owens, John Meehan, Mark Shives, and Bill McDaniel who occasionally joined the Varsity.

The Frosh scored wins over Howe, Washington, Roncalli, Tech, Southport. Wood. Broad Ripple, and Ritter. Only the Cathedral Irish and Arlington's Golden Knights were able to overcome the First Year Men. Wilford Jimison set a new Manual freshmen scoring record with 140 season points.

Sectional Second Takes Harriers to Regional

Seniors Tim Yates and Jeff Adams lead all competition in a Varsity Cross Country meet. Tim and Jeff ran first and second for the Redskin distancemen through the fall season.

The Varsity Cross Country Team highlighted its season with a second place in Sectional competition, which enabled the team to make a trip to the Regional at Richmond. The 'Skins' Sectional finish trailed the State Champion Southport.

Another high point of the season was Senior Tim Yates' breaking the school record. Yates bettered the time for the two-mile course at Garfield Park with a time of 10:01. Yates also led the 'Skins to a fourth place finish in City competition. Individually, Tim placed third with a time of 10:04. He finished one second out of second place. Jeff Adams scored twelfth with a time of 10:26. Roger Carroll scored lifteenth with a time of 10:29.

Manual's first dual-meet opponent, Scecina, was defeated as the Redskins took the first four positions. Placing first was Yates; second, Birl Schilling; third, Adams; and fourth, Carroll. Beech Grove was beaten in like style as the Redskins captured six out of the first seven places.

Leading the Varsity in the Pike Hokum Karum was the two-man team of Yates and Adams who placed fourteenth with a time of 33:09 over the six-mile course. This meet was the first and most unusual contest of the season. Here Coach Al Pike sized up Manual's future state competition. In the 'Skins' first triangular meet of the season, the Harriers posted their best race to run past Wood and Cathedral, two of the city's top rated squads.

Passing the half-mile mark of Manual's Garfield Cross Country Course, Rod Gilly, Tery Langford, and Mike Lindsey use strategy in passing a Marshall runner.

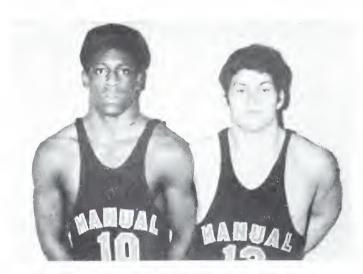

The Reserve Harriers carved out their best record in recent years with twelve wins and three losses. Lead runners were Mike Lindsey, Virgil Burke, and Jim Milhon, who will add greatly to the 1971 Varsity squad. The Reserve's only losses were handed them by Southport, Tech, and Northwest.

The first year runners showed strength and depth behind lead owners Gary Jay and Duane Raymer as the Freshman record stood untarnished throughout the season. This was the first year the Freshmen have gone undefeated in Coach Al Pike's tenure. The frosh scored a high third in the City.

Albert Munn Rates MVP as Top Senior Wrestler

Crawford Spann and Delbert Bowles (above) went to Regional competition. Albert Munn (below) wrestled in the Sectional.

The Varsity Wrestling squad, having performed with top determination and skill, ended its season with an 8-3 record. Winning "Most Valuable Player" on the squad was Senior Albert Munn.

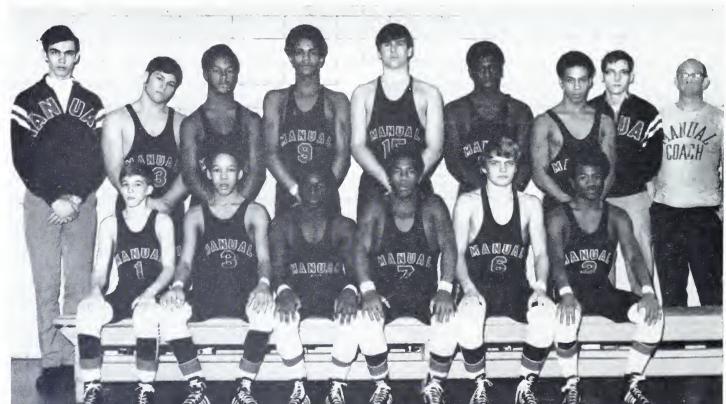

Delbert Bowles and Crawford Spann, both juniors, entered Regional competition after being crowned Sectional Champs for the 185-pound class and 167-pound class, respectively. Junior James Jimison, 119-pound class, and Munn, 126-pound class, both placed third in Sectional action. Bowles, Spann, and Jimison will be top contenders on next year's team. Coach Jack Foster may look forward to a good season with these matmen moving on in their Varsity Wrestling career, but Coach Foster did lose five grapplers to graduation; Greg Allen, Don Bossingham, Mark Ellis, Munn, and Bodo Schick.

The Reserve Wrestlers, under Coach Al Pike, closed their season 12 and 2. In the Reserve City Tourney, four Redskins placed. These were Jerry O'Neil and Bill McDaniels, third places; Wendell Ware and Ed Johnston, fourth places. Coach Pike said that the 1970 performance produced the best season in some dozen years.

The Freshman Grapplers, directed by Coach Bob Hignite, completed their season with a 7-5 record. In the Freshman City Tournament, the Manual squad finished fifth. Outstanding freshman was Ernest Taylor who placed second in his class.

The Manual squads should be strong and bring another winning season to Manual next year.

Roundballers Work Up to Sectional Final

Junior standout, Forward Jim Hall goes high during a jump-ball situation to try to tip the basketball to his forward teammate, Fred Hutton, in the foreground, also a Junior.

A second straight winning season in as many years was captured by the '70-71 Redskin Varsity basketball team as they rallied for a respectable 12-10 mark and the honor of being runners-up to Cathedral in the Southport Sectional

Opening games were losses to Northwest and Cathedral, but impressive wins over Roncalli and Marshall brought the Redskins even at 2-2. Then defeats by Columbus and Wood knocked the 'Skins to a 2-4 record, but Manual went into the City Tourney with a 7-5 mark after winning over Franklin Central, Ben Davis, Ripple, and Tech.

The best showing the team made was in the City Tourney as Manual literally whipped and upset favorite Washington, 79-60. But the next night the upset didn't mean much to the Attucks' Tigers as they shot a blazing 60 per cent from the field and stopped Manual, 73-63.

Other victims of "Big Red" were Chatard and Arlington. While costly defeats came from Washington, Lawrence Central, County Champ Warren Central, City Titlist Shortridge, and Howe.

In Sectional action, Manual knocked off neighbor Beech Grove, then reversed an earlier 16 point setback from Wood, but was blasted by 27 points in the final game by Champ Cathedral.

Players receiving individual honors were Eric Smith who got the "Assist" and MVP awards. Juniors Darrell Short and James Hall earned the "Free Throw" and "Rebound" awards.

Slow Start Holds JV's, Frosh Prove Luckless

The Reserve Basketball Team, under Coach Bill Rosenstihl, finished the season with a 9-win and 10-loss record. After suffering five straight setbacks at the first of the year, the JV's won over Wood, Franklin Central, Ben Davis, Chatard, Lawrence Central, Arlington, Warren Central, Shortridge, and Howe. Coach Steve Witty's Freshman Team made a complete "turnabout" as they fell to a 4-H mark after having a 14-4 last year.

Cindermen Post 15-2

For Outstanding Slate

The Redskin Tracksters finished the 1970 season with 15 wins against only two losses. This slate brings Coach "Mo" Moriarty's 14-year total to 144 wins and only 38 losses. The Cindermen rallied their efforts to bring them a City Meet sixth place.

Roger Davis represented Manual in the Regional by scoring 6 feet 4 inches to become City Champ in the high jump. Bob Lane also scored a third in this event as Tom Thacker went to a fourth place finish in the pole vault. The 'Skins' mile-relay team led by MVP winner Mike Campbell ran to a third. Tim Yates set a new school record of 10:14 in the two-mile, scoring sixth in the City Meet.

Manual scored in every event of the Franklin Relays bringing them a fourth of twelve teams. The Skins brought home 6 plaques and 25 ribbons, their best performance in recent years. First place was won in the long jump by the team of Thacker and Jim Pinner, and in the high-hurdles shuttle race by Randy Cradick, Greg Allen, Jim McDaniel, and Terry Odom. Davis and Lane combined efforts to bring a second in the high jump.

In Sectional competition the ovalmen held their own as Jeff Adams placed fifth in the mile and Yates sixth in the two mile. Pinner scored a fifth in the finishing heat of the 100-yard dash.

The Reserve squad ended a winning season with a 5-2 slate while Freshmen won eight and lost one.

MVP Eric Frey Leads Batmen to Winning Mark

Coach Bill Rosenstihl congratulates 1970 Varsity Pitcher Eric Frey on his being selected both the team's MVP and All-City.

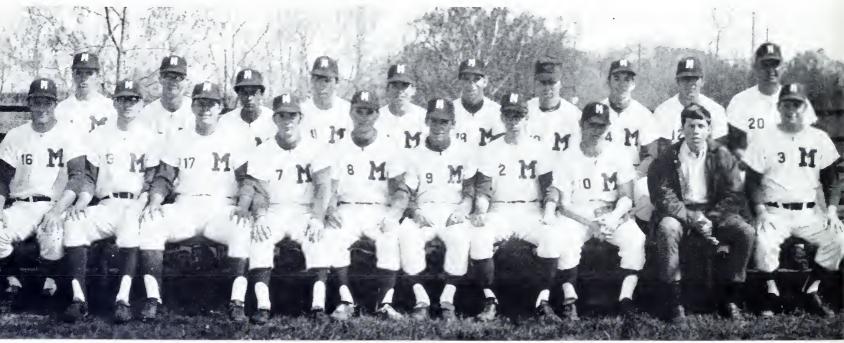

Coach Bill Rosenstihl's first Manual Varsity Baseball Team made the Sectional final game for the third year in a row but couldn't cop another title as Decatur Central ended the Redskins' honor of two straight titles by winning 1-0 in a great pitching duel between Manual's Eric Frey and Decatur's Jeff Jay. These Sectional games enabled the Redskins to end the season with a fine 12-11 mark.

Frey, who was the unanimous choice for MVP honors made the All-City squad because of his great pitching abilities. He was a leader in both strikeouts and earned-runs among the city hurlers.

Wins during the season were posted over Short-ridge, Northwest, Ben Davis, Washington, Cathedral, Bloomington, Broad Ripple, Wood, Howe, and Scecina. The Diamondmen lost to Arlington, Roncalli, Brebeut, Chatard, Tech, Southport, Bloomington, Latin School, and Warren Central.

Top players lost through graduation were Frey, Steve Breedlove, Pat Cobb, Wayne Bartlett, and Dan Broughton. The '71 club returns seven lettermen and was expected to have another fine season on the diamond. Talented juniors like Rick Poynter, Dale Petrie, Jim Mack, and Rodney Osmon returned to lead the way. Pitchers were expected to be Petrie, Mike Collins, and Norman Leonard, while strong hitting would come from Poynter and Osmon.

Racketmen who backed the "Varsity" players are Don Bossingham, Zachary Bird, and Bob Caviness, kneeling; and Steve Catlett, John Haley, Bill Hagenmaier, and Kinny Kenman, standing. These players will add strength to the '71 team.

Manual's 1970 Tennis Team broke even as the Racquetmen compiled a 7-7 season mark under Coach Bob Hignite in his third year as mentor.

Wayne Shaw, the number one man, helped the team greatly as he held this enviable spot throughout the year and returned to lead the '71 team.

In City Tourney action, Tim Updike and Mike Crafton advanced to the semi-final round in the singles competition, while Shaw and Updike made it to the semi-finals in the doubles ranks.

Some of the wins were posted over Cathedral, Northwest, Shortridge, Roncalli, and Attucks, while setbacks came from Broad Ripple, Scecina, Tech, Marshall, Ben Davis, and Arlington.

Other members of the team were Mark Koenig, Kurt Hedegard, Robert Caviness, Steve Catlett, Bill Hagenmaier, Zackary Bird, Kerry Muhry, John Haley, Mike Pollard, Mark Stansberry, Donald Bossingham, and Kenny Kinman.

Something new to the 1970 team was the addition of the so-called "rackettes." Bev Pillow and Peggy Updike were chosen to help at the meets by keeping score and taking care of the equipment.

With Wayne Shaw, Tim Updike, Kurt Hedegard, and some fine underclassmen returning, the 1971 team should have another fine season. The location for Manual's home meets is the Garfield Park courts, where Manual's team practices.

Tom Klinge Paces Team

Fifth-year coach of the Golf Team, Mr. "Woody" McBride, guided his young Teemen to an improved 6 win, 8 loss, and one tie 1970 season. Wins were posted over Attucks, Franklin Central, Shortridge, Washington, and Roncalli and Wood in a three-way match. Clubs successful in downing the 'Skins were Brebeuf, Greenfield, Northwest, Scecina, Lawrence Central, Tech, Ben Davis, and Southport and Cathedral in another three-way match. The lone tie came with the Marshall Patriots, 6-6.

The Teemen finished fifth in the Golf Sectional of 23 participating teams. The 'Skins shocked such golf powers as City Champ Cathedral, three times City Champ Northwest, rival Southport, and low-scoring Broad Ripple to finish in the top ten. Leading this year's squad were Junior Tom Klinge and Sophomore Herb Taylor. Both shot consistantly in the low 40's. Dan Brown and Scott Johnson, both juniors, also helped lead the team by averaging around 45. Taylor and Klinge placed in the top ten of 94 golfers who participated in the Sectional.

Intramurals Provide 'Fun, Games' with Action

The leisure hours of many Manualites are filled with exercise and fun as they participate in the boys' and girls' intramural programs. Bowling and Judo are Manual's two "coed" sports that attract numerous interested Redskins. Bowlers traveled to the Sport Bowl every Tuesday and attempted to improve their scores over their last games. The club was under the leadership of Mr. David Phillips.

Manual's Judo Club, in its second year, is proving popular and successful as Manualites, under the direction of Mr. Stephen Sharpee, learn the art of self-defense while keeping their muscles ton ed. Several members became proficient Judoka.

Girls playing intramural sports had a full schedule this year as they challenged many other schools in basketball. The Varsity basketball team played Roncalli, Marshall, and Ladywood-St. Agnes with wins, and played a losing battle against Speedway, Beech Grove, and Greenwood. At the close of the season, the "Most Outstanding Girl Athlete" award went to Junior Janel Denny.

Boys participated in basketball for their "intraleague" games during winter months. The program is made up of a league of juniors and seniors and a league of freshmen and sophomores. The "Black Panthers," a team in the upperclassmen's league, won that group's championship. The "B" League champs were the "Pacers."

Principal Suffle Makes Mr. Thrall 'Big Chief,'

Mrs. Wayne H. Kincaid (seated), Mrs. Howard C. Thrall, and Mrs. E. Franklin Fisher were hostesses to faculty members at the Christmas Tea an afternoon before Christmas vacation.

Promotion changed Manual's faculty in January when Principal Wayne H. Kincaid was appointed an acting assistant superintendent for secondary education and moved to the Education Center downtown. Mr. Howard C. Thrall, vice-principal, moved into Manual's principal's office.

Members of the faculty are busy all through the school year doing many things besides teaching classes. Behind all activities — clubs, athletics, dramatics, field trips, Redskin Revue, Pow Wow — are teachers who are willing to use extra time to work with and counsel students.

In January all the teachers attended a workshop on "Drug Abuse," either all day on a Saturday or on three afternoons from 4-6 o'clock. This counted as replacement for the two extra days added to Christmas vacation. Discussion was directed by Mr. Steve Glenn, a Doctoral student in Sociology and Urban Geography at Indiana University. Mr. Harold Bennett planned the program.

The faculty always closes the year with a luncheon at a nearby restaurant during which those retiring or leaving the school are recognized. Retireed teachers are always invited, and many attend, proving "once a Redskin, always a Redskin."

President Kennedy Leads Class of 1971

Senior Class President Ray Kennedy presents a senior armband, a 62-year tradition, to designer Helen Milli, while Mr. Robert Gallamore, Senior Sponsor, and Connie Cherry look on.

Students who had earned the right to be called seniors eagerly assumed the privileges and responsibilities of the title, inheriting such traditions as cafeteria for Home Room, senior lunch line, Senior Day, and Turnabout Day.

Senior year for the Class of '71 began with a frenzied campaign for class officers. Ray Kennedy was elected president; Steve Ritter was chosen vice-president, and Beverly Pillow and Jeff Adams were voted secretary and treasurer.

October 29, Senior Day, found seniors dressed in their "Sunday best" and wearing senior armbands and red or white carnations. This year's armband was designed by Helen Milli. The pinning on of class colors was done during Home Room on Senior Day, and the annual class party was in the cafeteria where Principal Wayne H. Kincaid officially installed the newly-elected class officers.

On Turnabout Day many seniors acted as faculty members and administrators for a day. This year, Tom Smith became principal, and Kathy Gabonay and Paul Herbig acted as vice-principals.

Vespers, Commencement, and the Class Prom climaxed the year. Senior Council, comprised of the four class officers and the nine Home Room Representatives, selected "Just the Two of Us" as the Prom theme. Seniors danced at the Knights of Columbus Hall the evening following graduation.

Secretary Bev Pillow reads the minutes of a previous meeting to seniors during Home Room on Senior Day. Mr. William Rosenstihl, Senior Home Room teacher, and Mr. Robert Dunn, Senior Counselor, are seated in the background.

Large Junior Class Fills Year with Activity

Manual's official Christmas tree, a project of the Junior Class, makes a perfect background for Vice-president Marcia Goodin, Treasurer JoAnn Devine, President Stuart Sutliff, and Secretary Candy Collier who supervised the decorating.

JoAnn Devine seems to find Joyce Stull's request of Santa Claus amusing. Mr. Stephen Sharpee impersonated the bewhiskered old gentleman at the Junior Class party in the cafeteria which followed the decorating of the big Christmas tree.

The excitement of being upperclassmen overtook more than 500 juniors as they cast their ballots for class officers to open the year and its flurry of activities. Juniors wishing to run for office submitted letters of recommendation to Mr. Willard Henderson, class sponsor, who screened the letters and selected the actual candidates. Campaigning of these enthusiastic hopefuls filled the halls with posters, and the students were bedecked with "pledge" buttons," pledging their support to their favorites. The voting poll was set up just outside the cafeteria during lunch periods. Selected juniors and the class sponsors manned the polls.

Another important event for the juniors was decorating Manual's Christmas tree, provided by the Class of '72. Afterward they attended a party with Santa Claus (Mr. Steve Sharpee) a guest.

Class rings, Junior Recognition Day, and the Prom were all symbols of their newly acclaimed status. Junior Day was March 2 and all the juniors "dressed in their best" to meet the occasion. Top Ten Juniors were announced during a program in the auditorium, which was followed by a party in the cafeteria. College Night was a chance for college-minded upperclassmen to see which school best suited them. The Junior Prom, at the Indiana University Medical Center, May 8, closed the year.
